FACTS ABOUT CITY HARVEST

City Harvest pioneered food rescue in 1982, and, this year, will collect 59 million pounds of good food that would otherwise go to waste and deliver it to soup kitchens, food pantries and other community food programs that help feed the nearly 1.3 million New Yorkers struggling to put meals on their tables. City Harvest takes a long-term approach to hunger relief through its Healthy Neighborhoods programs.

Making an Impact

- City Harvest is New York City's largest private response to hunger. Through relationships with farms, grocers, restaurants, and manufacturers, City Harvest collects nutritious food that would otherwise go to waste.
- City Harvest delivers this food free of charge to 500 soup kitchens, food pantries and other community food programs across the five boroughs, using a fleet of 22 trucks that are on the road seven days a week.
- City Harvest delivers an average of 165,000 pounds of food daily.

Working Efficiently and Effectively

- This year, City Harvest will rescue 59 million pounds of nutritious food, more than half of which will be fresh produce.
- It costs City Harvest just 25 cents to rescue and deliver one pound of food.
- Ninety-three cents of every dollar donated directly supports our anti-hunger programs across the city.
