

Coin Rolling

Collected a lot of coins during your fight against hunger? Hone math and counting skills by following these easy instructions for a coin rolling activity with kids in the classroom or at home! Make sure to contact your bank for their policies on pre-rolled coin deposits.

Denomination	Coins Per Roll	Cash Total for Rolls
Pennies	50	$.50
Nickels	40	$2.00
Dimes	50	$5.00
Quarters	40	$10.00
Half-Dollars	20	$10.00
Dollars	25	$25.00

Step 1: Get it together!

Ready to see how small change can have a big impact? Round up your coins and get ready to wrap! Your local bank should be able to provide you with wrappers in any denomination you need.

Step 2: Sort yourselves out!

Pour all the coins on a flat surface and push them into piles by type.

Step 3: Stack 'em up!

After you sort the coins, stack them in piles of 10. Penny and dime rolls need five stacks of 10 to fill them. Nickels and quarters require four stacks of ten. Make sure you have the correct amount of stacks before stuffing the rolls.

Step 4: Roll those coins!

Grab a coin wrapper and fill it with the proper number of coins. Don't forget to seal your rolls, (this might be difficult for younger children so you may need to help). How to seal: Keeping your thumb at the bottom of the wrapper, stuff the coins down an open roll. Then, with your thumb in place, flip the coin roll and fold down the other side of the wrapper.

Step 5: Calculate your impact

Ready for a real reward? Use the rolled coins to total the number of dollars you've collected. Then, multiply by four to know how many hungry New Yorkers you've helped. It costs City Harvest $1 to rescue and deliver food to feed four people.

Step 6: Cash in to win the fight against hunger!

Take the coin rolls to the bank and deposit them with the teller. If you'd like to deposit at a TD Bank location, please contact us at partnerships@cityharvest.org or 646-412-0658 and we'll send you a deposit slip. If you're making the deposit at your school's bank, please mail in the funds you raise via check; payable to City Harvest, Inc.
